This type of investment is called a “structured deposit”

A structured deposit is an investment where financial contracts are packaged together to define, at the outset, the conditions for what, how and when it pays. For example, they can make money if a stock market index performs a certain way in the future. We then add the necessary administration services and marketing to make it an investable plan.

Some structured deposits, such as this plan, can end early at certain junctures at the discretion of the bank who manufactures the financial contracts that provide the plan features (the “Counterparty”). The decision to end the plan early will depend on a number of factors, including the Counterparty’s situation and financial markets during the life of the plan. In general, if interest rates fell from their current levels, the plan is more likely to end early. Ultimately, however, the Counterparty can choose to end the plan for any reason.

Financial markets and interest rates are influenced by many factors such as, and not limited to:

- ▶ The strength of economies
- ▶ Governments, policies and politics
- ▶ War and conflict
- ▶ Natural disasters
- ▶ The supply and price of resources

As such, what gets paid from this structured product will be influenced by these factors too.

Who is the plan designed for?

The target market

We have designed this plan to meet the objectives of customers with certain characteristics, which we call our “target market”. If you do not fit the following criteria, this plan may not be appropriate for your circumstances.

	Market view	Customers should have a view on financial markets aligned with their expectation for the life of the plan because this is what will dictate when the plan ends. Otherwise, this plan does not suit their market view.
	Investor type	This plan has been primarily designed for retail investors. Customers should be comfortable with being treated as such but if they wish to be treated otherwise, they may request this. See the associated Terms and Conditions for more details.
	Knowledge & experience	Customers should be able to understand how this plan works and be able to make an informed investment decision after reading this document and the associated Key Information Document. Otherwise, they should seek professional financial advice.
	Risk tolerance	Customers should be comfortable with the level of risk described in this document and the associated Key Information Document. Otherwise, this plan does not suit their risk tolerance.
	Ability to bear losses	Customers who are not willing or able to withstand losing money fall within the target market. When the plan ends, all invested money will be returned subject to the ongoing financial health of Societe Generale. Customers should, however, appreciate the importance of having a diversified spread of investments to reduce the risk of being highly exposed to any one investment type or sector.
	Objective	Customers should be investing for Interest paid as Growth, not Income. They should also be willing to accept that the total amount of Interest they receive is conditional. Otherwise, this plan does not suit their investment objective.
	Horizon	Customers should be willing and able to tie up their money for the life of this plan and have other sources of money to cover daily and emergency spending. Otherwise, this plan does not suit their investment horizon.
	Distribution channel	We highly recommend taking professional financial advice, but applications will not be rejected if no advice was taken. Customers must complete the relevant application form fully, including the appropriateness questions.
	Vulnerable customers	Customers with certain characteristics may be vulnerable to poor outcomes, especially if the plan does not perform as expected. The elderly, digitally averse, anyone suffering a bereavement and those suffering an income shock should proceed with caution. Customers who think they may have characteristics of vulnerability should seek professional financial advice.

Professional financial advice is recommended

We highly recommend taking professional financial advice before deciding whether to apply for this investment. We do not provide tailored advice on customers' specific needs, or if they fall within our target market. The information provided on this page is not investment advice or an investment recommendation. We have not taken individual circumstances into consideration.

Please note that we will accept non-advised applications but seeking professional financial advice is encouraged.

The essentials

How the plan works

- ▶ The amount of money this plan pays is dependent on when the plan ends.
- ▶ The plan will start on the Start Date.
- ▶ Throughout the life of the plan, the Counterparty can decide to end the plan early for any reason on scheduled dates. We call these dates, the Recallable Dates.
- ▶ If the plan does not end early, it will end on the End Date.
- ▶ Any money customers make will be paid out in one lump sum, Interest payment.
- ▶ Should any relevant date fall on or become a non-business day, the next business day will be used.

The goal of the plan

The plan starts on the Start Date. On each Recallable Date if the Counterparty decides to end the plan early, it will pay Interest equal to 6.85% of the money invested for each year the plan has been in force. This is called a Recall. The first date this can happen is 8 October 2026.

- ↘ If the plan never Recalls and reaches the End Date, it will pay Interest equal to 53.50% of the money invested. This represents 5.35% for each year the plan has been in force, lower than the 6.85% that would be paid if the Counterparty decided to end the plan early.
 - ↘ Customers will get all their invested money back when the plan ends, whether that be at the End Date or from a Recall on a Recallable Date.

The relevant dates and percentages are shown in the following tables. More detailed information on how, what and when the plan pays can be found in the “How does the plan make money?” and “Can the plan lose money?” sections, respectively.

Key Dates

Deadlines	17 September 2024 for applications with an ISA transfer 4 October 2024 for all other applications
Start Date	8 October 2024
End Date	9 October 2034
Payment Date	Any money owed to customers is expected to be paid to us by Societe Generale within 5 business days of the relevant Recallable Date if the plan ends early or End Date if the plan does not end early. We then expect to pay customers within 10 business days of receipt.
Term	Maximum 10 years, 3 weeks

How does the plan make money?

Interest

The flowchart below describes how customers can make money from this plan. Any Interest achieved will only be paid when the plan ends, whether that be at the End Date or from a Recall on a Recallable Date.

Please note that:

- ▶ Any Interest will be paid up to 15 business days after the relevant Recallable Date or End Date.
- ▶ Any Interest will be made by bank transfer directly into a customer's nominated bank account on receipt of their instruction.
- ▶ Any payment of Interest is subject to the ongoing financial health of Societe Generale.
- ▶ If the plan has not been Recalled on or before 8 October 2030, an early Recall thereafter will be unlikely except in exceptional market circumstances (such as, but not limited to a negative interest rate environment). This is because it would then be more economical for Societe Generale to let the plan run to the End Date.

Can the plan lose money?

The return of invested money

Customers will get all their invested money back when the plan ends, whether that be at the End Date or from a Recall on a Recallable Date. The flowchart below illustrates this.

Should a customer choose to withdraw from the plan at any other time, they will only be able to get back the value of the plan when it is sold which is likely to be less than the money they originally invested, sometimes significantly so.

Please note that:

- ▶ Any return of invested money will be paid up to 15 business days after the relevant Recallable Date or End Date.
- ▶ Any return of invested money will be made by bank transfer directly into a customer's nominated bank account on receipt of their instruction.
- ▶ Any return of invested money is subject to the ongoing financial health of Societe Generale.

8 October 2024 (Start Date) to 10 October 2033

If the Counterparty Recalls the plan at a Recallable Date, customers get all their invested money back.

9 October 2034 (End Date)

Customers get all their invested money back.

Practical examples

Examples

The illustration below describes examples that might be considered good and less favourable outcomes under this plan. These do not give predictions of what we believe customers might receive and are illustrative only. They also do not take personal circumstances into consideration. What customers consider to be good and less favourable outcomes may differ to the examples given.

We have also assumed an example invested amount of £10,000 to give more context. The actual amount chosen to invest could be higher or lower.

Investment amount

£10,000

Good Outcome

UK interest rates remain stable over the life of the plan. No Recall happens and the customer gets their invested money back with Interest, having beaten rates on high-street deposits.

On the End Date, 9 October 2034:

- ▶ The customer gets their £10,000 back with an Interest payment of £5,350 (53.50% of the money invested).

Less Favourable Outcome A

UK interest rates fall significantly in the second year of the plan. The Counterparty decides to Recall the plan at the first opportunity. The customer, unprepared for this outcome, gets their invested money back with Interest, but they are unable to reinvest at a similar or better rate.

On the Recallable Date, 8 October 2026:

- ▶ The Counterparty lets us know that they want to Recall the plan and we inform all customers.
- ▶ The customer gets their £10,000 back with an Interest payment of £1,370 (13.70% of the money invested).

Less Favourable Outcome B

UK interest rates rise significantly in the second year of the plan and remain elevated for the rest of the life of the plan. No Recall happens and the customer gets their invested money back with Interest, but failed to beat rates on high-street deposits.

On the End Date, 9 October 2034:

- ▶ The customer gets their £10,000 back with an Interest payment of £5,350 (53.50% of the money invested).

About Societe Generale

The underlying financial contracts in this plan are manufactured by an investment bank. Because they are ultimately responsible for any payment obligations such as any money made from the plan and the repayment of invested money, they are considered the Counterparty.

More specifically, the Counterparty to this plan is Societe Generale in its capacity as deposit taker, acting through its London branch.

The financial contracts are formed by depositing your money with Societe Generale, through a bare trust. A bare trust is an arrangement which allows us to act on your behalf in relation to your plan. The deposit effectively loans your money to the Counterparty, entitling you to the features of this plan.

“Societe Generale provides commercial, retail, investment, and private banking services. The Bank offers consumer credit, vehicle lease financing, information technology equipment leasing, life and non-life insurance, custodian, trade and project financing, currency exchange, treasury, financial, and commodities brokerage services. Societe Generale serves customers worldwide.”

Know the risks

The key risks

Whether it be shares in a company or a fixed rate deposit from your local bank, there are risks involved in any investment. For this plan, the risks most likely to have the greatest impact are the future ups and downs of financial markets (Market Risk) and the ongoing financial strength of the Counterparty (Counterparty Risk).

The Summary Risk Indicator was developed by financial regulators to provide investors with a way to compare the level of risk between investment products. It is designed to indicate the amount of risk in an investment due to Market Risk or Counterparty Risk.

This plan has been given a risk rating of 1 out of 7, which is considered low risk. More information can be found in the associated Key Information Document which must be read with this brochure.

Summary Risk Indicator

Market Risk

How much money a customer gets from this plan depends on when and if the Counterparty decides to Recall the plan. The Counterparty's decision to end the plan early will depend on a number of factors, including the Counterparty's situation and financial markets during the life of the plan. In general, if interest rates fell from their current levels, the plan is more likely to end early. Ultimately, however, the Counterparty can choose to end the plan for any reason. The section on "How does the plan make money?" describes this in more detail. In addition, any inflation will reduce the real value of anything paid by the plan.

When the plan ends, all invested money will be returned subject to the ongoing financial health of Societe Generale. The section on "Can the plan lose money?" describes this in more detail.

Counterparty Risk

The payment of any money owed to customers depends on the continued financial strength of the Counterparty. If the Counterparty's ability to pay its financial obligations deteriorates significantly, customers' money, regardless of how the plan is performing at the time, will be at risk of not being paid back in full. This is subject to customers' potential eligibility for compensation from the Financial Services Compensation Scheme ('FSCS').

One way to gauge the financial strength of a Counterparty is to look at credit ratings. These are the opinions of independent agencies, such as Fitch, Moody's and Standard and Poor's. Each rating agency uses different labels but are scaled similarly. By way of example, Standard & Poor's highest rating is AAA and lowest rating is D. Outlooks indicate the future direction of a credit rating view.

As these are opinions only, credit ratings should not be considered a guarantee of financial strength. Ratings are also subject to change at any time depending on the Counterparty's circumstances. The table below shows the relevant credit ratings of the Counterparty for this plan.

Credit ratings: Societe Generale

Agency	Rating	Outlook
Fitch	A (Long Term Bank Deposits Rating)	Positive
Moody's	A1 (Local Long Term Bank Deposits Rating)	Negative
S&P	A (Long Term Local Issuer Credit Rating)	Stable

Correct as at 16 August 2024

You can find more information on credit ratings on our website and the websites of each respective agency:

Fitch: www.fitchratings.com

Moody's: www.moody.com

Know the risks

Other important risks

In addition to Market and Counterparty Risk, the following are some other risks that customers should consider before investing. This list is not comprehensive, and customers should read this brochure and the Terms & Conditions fully to understand the potential risks involved.

Application risk

The plan does not begin on the date on which a customer applies. It has a fixed Start Date.

The plan could sell out or in rare cases, be cancelled before its Start Date. In these circumstances, a customer's money cannot be invested. We will notify them if this happens and ask for their instruction. Our website will flag when products are close to being sold out or full.

When the plan ends, customers might not be able to reinvest their money in another plan or investment that has the same, or similar, level of money-making potential.

Withdrawal risk

If a customer wishes to withdraw from the plan before the End Date, they will only be able to get back the value of the plan when it is sold which is likely to be less than the money they originally invested, sometimes significantly so. If we also paid a financial adviser on their behalf, they will be responsible for obtaining any refund, if applicable.

The value of the plan at any time will be impacted by, but not limited to, the cost of manufacture, the cost of transacting, interest rate changes, the performance of stock markets and the ongoing strength of the Counterparty.

We do our best to accommodate daily trading, but the Counterparty does not commit and is under no legal obligation to do so. The Counterparty may also not be able to quote regular prices making it difficult to value the plan promptly, delaying any early withdrawal requests made.

Tax risk

Before investing, customers should be aware of and review the tax implications of this plan. They may wish to consider consulting a professional tax adviser.

Tax risks include changes in laws, regulations or rules under the relevant authority which may negatively impact payments to you from the plan. Any tax relief will depend on individual circumstances and could change at any time. These changes could also be backdated.

Re-registration of this investment to a new holder may alter the tax implications.

Unforeseen circumstances

Extraordinary events such as, but not limited to, natural disasters, the introduction of restrictive regulations, suspension of financial markets and other events outside our control could impact the plan. If such an event occurs, payments owed to customers could be adjusted, reduced or delayed. In all cases we will use due care when considering how to respond and any response will aim to be fair and proportionate.

Customers should have other savings that they can access promptly to meet any emergency cash needs. The contract terms of the plan may permit the Counterparty to delay, reduce or withhold payments. This is not intended to circumvent what is legally due to customers, but it is intended to cover unforeseen events which affect the potential payments from the plan, for example, a suspension or delay in receiving prices.

How much does the plan cost?

Our charges

To make your investment journey as simple as possible, all of the money you send to us for investment, will be invested.

To cover our costs of designing, arranging, promoting, distributing and administering the plan, we earn a one-off percentage margin equal to the difference between the total money invested by customers and the price we pay for the underlying financial contracts of the plan. This margin can vary as we buy and sell contracts to meet customer demand.

As at 16 August 2024, this margin was 1.25%.

For the avoidance of doubt, this has already been factored into structuring the plan and there will be no charges to the money you intend to invest or any money you might make. We do not charge any ongoing management or maturity fees either.

Charges described in the Key Information Document

There are also cost disclosures in the associated Key Information Document. This document is produced by the Counterparty and considers both our costs and costs further up the distribution chain. Although this information is important to read carefully in full, customers should note that these charges are already embedded and have already been accounted for in the plan. Customers do not pay the percentages described in the Key Information Document on top of their intended investment amount.

Adviser charges

Customers using a professional financial adviser may request for us to pay an adviser charge directly to them via the application form.

Charges for additional administration services

The following table sets out administration charges for additional services.

Withdrawal services

Early withdrawal of plan This charge is applicable whether the proceeds are paid to the customer, held in a customer's account pending further instructions or, for ISAs, transferred to another ISA manager.	£100 + VAT	On withdrawal

Consider your need for professional financial advice

It is crucially important that you only proceed with this plan if it is right for you. We highly recommend you seek financial advice from a professional. We cannot advise you if this plan meets your specific needs or if you fall within our target market. Please note that for some of our products we require you to take professional financial advice. Refer to the “Who is the plan designed for?” section to confirm if this plan requires you to take professional financial advice.

Consider your tax implications

It is our understanding that any money made from this plan as a direct investment by individuals or Trusts is expected to be subject to Income Tax. If available, using a tax wrapper such as an Individual Savings Account (ISA) or Self Invested Personal Pension (SIPP) can provide more tax-efficient ways to invest. The information in this brochure is based on what we know about UK tax legislation as at the time of writing. Tax rules are subject to change and the value of tax reliefs will depend on your individual circumstances. We do not provide tax advice and customers should consult a financial and/or tax adviser if necessary.

Check you have chosen the right plan

To cater for a range of tastes and target markets, we often have a variety of plans available at any time. When you or your financial adviser decide that it is time to invest, please ensure you choose the right plan. The below table lists some details that can help you to identify this plan.

Before investing

Choose the right application form

We offer various avenues to investment so that customers have flexibility in how their investment is taxed. You should complete the form that matches your needs. We do not provide tax advice and customers should consult a financial and/or tax adviser if necessary. Further information about tax in the UK, ISAs and pensions, is available from the UK government website at: www.gov.uk

The below describes the options available to you. The information on taxation in this brochure is based on our understanding of tax, current legislation, regulations and practice at the time of writing. These are likely to change in the future and changes could be backdated.

For the 2024/25 tax year the ISA allowance is £20,000. ▶ If you wish to transfer an existing ISA, your ISA manager will sell your existing investment. If the ISA manager fails to send us the funds on time, we will not be able to proceed.
Pensions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▶ If you invest via a SIPP (Self Invested Personal Pension) or SSAS (Small Self Administered Scheme), any money you make will usually be free of tax. Step 2: Send the investment money

Any time between submitting an application form and before the deadline for the plan, you can send us your investment money via electronic bank transfer. ...after we have purchased the financial contracts for the investment?

- ▶ The money will be used to buy the financial contracts designed to provide the features of the investment.

...when the investment ends?

- ▶ We will receive any money owed to you from the Counterparty. This money will be held safely in a segregated customer account at an independent, reputable bank until we are instructed by you.
- ▶ The money will be available to you within 15 business days of the investment ending. We will not make any payment until we have received a written instruction from you. We will continue to hold your money until instructed to pay the cash value or to reinvest it.

Other questions

What if you change your mind about investing?

When we acknowledge an application, we will send you a “Notice of the Right to Cancel”. You have 14 days from the day you receive this to complete and send it back to us. However, if we receive your request to cancel your investment after the financial contracts have been purchased, you will get back less than you invested. If we pay an adviser charge to a financial adviser on your behalf and you subsequently change your mind about investing, you will be responsible for obtaining any refund which may be due to you.

What if you want to withdraw from an investment before it ends?

In normal market conditions this is possible, but you will only be able to get back the value of the investment when it is sold. You will also be charged an administration fee for early withdrawal. See the section, “How much does the plan cost?”, for details on this.

We do our best to accommodate daily trading with the Counterparty. This means that if a sale request is submitted before 5:30pm on a business day, the order will be processed on the next business day. In normal market conditions, payment will be made into your nominated bank account within 5 business days after the order is processed.

What happens to the investment if I die?

We will require a death certificate and any supporting documentation so that we can administer the investment in accordance with instruction by your personal representatives. We will provide a valuation as at the date of death and will outline the options available, which will include re-registering the investment to a new owner so that it can be held until it ends. Where an investment is held jointly, the investment will be the joint property of all the holders and, following proof of death of the relevant holder, all instructions must be authorised by all the remaining joint holders.

What can you do if you have a complaint?

If you wish to complain about this investment, or the service you have received, you may do so by contacting:

Compliance Officer, 24/25 The Shard, 32 London Bridge Street, London, SE1 9SG or by telephoning 020 7904 1010.

We will keep you informed during the investigation process and will notify you of our conclusions and explain how these have been reached. If you are not satisfied with the way we have dealt with the complaint, you can complain, free of charge, to the Financial Ombudsman Service at:

Exchange Tower, London, E14 9SR

Telephone: 0800 023 4567

Website: www.financial-ombudsman.org.uk

Making a complaint does not prejudice your right to take legal action. Full details of our complaint procedure is available upon request. We would draw attention to the fact that the value of investments can change unpredictably, and any unfavourable performance is not, in itself, usually a valid reason for complaint.

What compensation arrangements are in place if the Counterparty or Meteor fails?

Societe Generale is covered by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) - the UK's deposit guarantee scheme. Your eligible deposits with Societe Generale are protected up to a total of £85,000 by the FSCS who can pay compensation to depositors if a bank is unable to meet its financial obligations. This limit, which applies to each individual depositor, applies to the aggregated amount of all deposits you may have with Societe Generale.

Meteor Asset Management Limited and Meteor Investment Management Limited are covered by the FSCS. Therefore, you may be entitled to compensation from the FSCS if we are declared to be ‘in default’ and you have suffered a loss as a result of Meteor's actions or negligence. In this event, the compensation limit is currently £85,000 per person. If the level of a claim against us is greater than £85,000 you would not be covered for the excess.

We currently use a range of banks to hold customer money. You may be eligible to make a claim if any of the banks we use, or may use in the future, becomes insolvent whilst holding your money, prior to the purchase of the financial contracts or pending payment to you of the amounts due when the plan ends. In this event, the compensation limit is currently £85,000 per person and this applies to all deposits held with the insolvent bank and any other member of its group. You would not be covered for any excess amount over the compensation limit. Many banking groups use several brands, which means the total investments you hold within a group will count towards one compensation limit. Details of banking and savings groups can be found on the Bank of England website at www.bankofengland.co.uk. Any queries can be directed to the FSCS at:
