WHAT ARE THE RISKS AND WHAT COULD I GET IN RETURN?

Summary Risk Indicator

Lower risk < 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 > Higher risk

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 6 years.

The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less. You may not be able to end your product in early. You may have to pay significant extra costs to end your product early.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 2 out of 7, which is a low risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a low level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact our capacity to pay you.

You are entitled to receive back at least 100% of your capital (where "capital" means Nominal Value and not invested amount). Any amount over this, and any additional return, depends on future market performance and is uncertain. However, this protection against future market performance will not apply if you cash in before the Maturity Date.

If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

Investment Performance Information

Factors affecting the product performance

The main factors that could affect the performance of the product is the performance of the underlying instrument(s) along with Societe Generale London Branch (SGLB) creditworthiness, which could have a material impact on the return, for instance if Societe Generale London Branch (SGLB) is unable to pay out the redemption amount.

Some other factors (such as the remaining time to the redemption date, interest rates, exchange rates, credit spreads, the dividend yield of the underlying where applicable, and in the case of multiple underlyings, the correlation between the various underlyings) could also affect the overall performance of the product on the secondary market.

There is no relevant index, benchmark or proxy which historical performance can be compared to the potential future performance of this structured product.

What could affect my returns?

The potential yield of the product at maturity will depend, in particular, on the scenario of evolution, until maturity of the product, of the factors that may affect its performance, mentioned above.

In a favorable scenario, if you hold the product to maturity or, (where applicable) until it early redeems, you might expect a return of 7.83% per annum.

In a moderate scenario, you might expect a return of 0.00% per annum.

In an unfavorable scenario, you might expect a return of 0.00% per annum based on an estimate of future performance. This case occurs when the underlying performs negatively, i.e. falls compared to its reference level in the product.

For the three scenarios above, if Societe Generale London Branch (SGLB) is not able to meet its obligation, you will have a negative return and could lose the entire initial amount.

Outcomes in severely adverse market conditions

In severely adverse market conditions, its expected return would be 0.0%. Furthermore, the product may undergo major price movements during the life of the product. The expected return can only be achieved if you don't exit before the maturity date of the product. This does not take into account the situation where Societe Generale London Branch (SGLB) is not able to meet its obligation.

All expected return figures presented in this section result from statistical calculations in accordance with the methodology prescribed under the PRIIP Regulation. They do not represent the return you will receive in each scenario but only a probability of return.

WHAT HAPPENS IF SOCIETE GENERALE LONDON BRANCH (SGLB) IS UNABLE TO PAY OUT?

If SGLB defaults or is unable to meet its financial obligations, you may suffer a partial or total loss of the invested amount. Please be aware that SGLB is covered by the UK Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) and if we are not able to pay you in relation to the deposit, you may be entitled to compensation under certain conditions and subject to certain limits.

The compensation limit applies to the aggregated amount of all of your deposits with SGLB and not to this deposit only. Any amount exceeding the compensation limit will not be covered by the protection of the FSCS. For more information, please visit the FSCS website www.fscs.org.uk.
